Dear Editor: For many years, I often wondered about the disappearance of what I thought was the finest comic hero ever. I'm referring to none other than PLASTIC MAN. Yesterday, to my surprise I found an old, beat-up, much-fingered issue of PLASTIC MAN and immediately began to read it. Sure enough, PLASTIC MAN had returned, and with much improvement! The artist's animation is lively as is the writer's imagination. I wish you all much success in the future!

—Sp/4 John P. Sutton, APO SF 96312

Glad to see our GIs overseas are taking time out to have a high time with our Human Pretzel.—Ed.

EDITOR'S NOTE: We've been so overwhelmed with requests from our ravin' readers to buy back issues of PLASTIC MAN since our announcement an issue or two ago that we've depleted our stock. Even the warehouse, which stores them, reports that it is fresh out. So please do not—repeat do not! send orders and money! We admit we're gratified by the sudden surge of interest in these back issues, but from here on in you'll have to keep up with Plas via your newsstand or a subscription. If your li'l ol' heart's gonna break from disappointment if you don't latch onto specific past issues, you can send us an inquiry, which we'll forward to some source that might prove helpful.

PM PATTER: To Mitch Pross of Huntington, N.Y.; Don Whitney, Totowa, N.J.; Johnny Herbison, Old Hickory, Tenn., and all the frantic fans who've been besieging us for further information about our pliable and pulsating PLASTIC MAN making his debut on television, all we can say at this time is that the pilot film's finished and negotiations are still under way.—Ed. . . . "Number 2 was the gr-r-reatest," writes Bruce Campbell (Soupy to his pals of Falmouth, Mass.) "But what a guessing game determining which of the three origins was the real one!" (That was just a teaser, Bruce old boy. We were deluged with so many choices, our head's still spinning like a merry-go-round. But we're plotting Plas's real past right now that'll include some of his former favorites. —Ed.)

"How about removing Plas's goggles for a page so we can see what his eyes look like? Gee, maybe he doesn't have any!" jokes Jan Forrest of Santa Ana, Calif. "Anyway, PM does make sense. After all, if you were a super-hero, wouldn't you wear a mask and cape instead of sun glasses and long underwear?" . . . "Why does he wear goggles?" insist Mary Carson of Presque Isle, Me., and Mike Tucci from Amsterdam, N.Y. (Why indeed? That's the set of threads Jack Cole clothed him in when he first established the character almost 20 years ago, and we'd rather fight than switch! Anyway, you can be sure he has a number of suits to send to the laundry, or maybe this one's wash-and-dry, which he does himself!—Ed.)

"I've read in 'Detective Comics' that Elongated Man has restrictions as to how far he can stretch," types Bill Graf of Ridgefield Park, N.J. "Are there similar restrictions pertaining to our favorite hero, PLASTIC MAN?" (So far, nothing's fazed him, but it's a good question, Bill. We'll investigate without delay.—Ed.) . . . "Has Plas a secret identity and headquarters?" insists Mark Lehrman, Bronx, N.Y. (Why should he have either? If he wants to secrete himself, all he has to do is shrink until he's almost invisible. Anyway, haven't we had enough of that stereotype—heroes and their hq.?—Ed.) . . . "Have you thought about bringing back the villainous Japanese Beetle?" pops Bruno Sperduti from Downsview, Ont. (Sure we have, and maybe we will, but right now we've got a full line-up of ferocious foes waiting to tangle with Plas.—Ed.).

"Recently I had a dream about a duplicate of PLASTIC MAN. It was neat, and I liked it," admits Eugene Kupstas of Kinston, N.C. (Was that a nightmare or a dream? You might try a glass of warm milk, feller, to make you sleep better.—Ed.) . . . "I just bought 10 copies of the latest issue and plan to do likewise in the future," writes Bill Schelly of Pittsburgh, Pa. (Thanks, but c'mon—stop hogging 'em all and give other hungry readers a chance!—Ed.) . . . "PLASTIC MAN was so good, I had to read it three times," says Maryanne Cooke, Bessemer, Ala. "What'll I do while waiting for the next one to come out?" (If you're strictly out for laughs, try JERRY LEWIS COMICS, BOB HOPE COMICS, SUGAR AND SPIKE, FOX AND CROW—WITH STANLEY AND HIS MONSTER.—Ed.) . . . "Three cheers for that rough-and-rowdy Plas!" sings Lewis Mitchell of Highland, Mich. "What're the chances of coming out every month?" (Sure 'nuff, if we get enough fans like you!—Ed.)

Outlawed by the authorities, the LEGION OF SUPER-HEROES forms an underground plot against Earth's government! And wait till you see this LEGION ESPIONAGE SQUAD in action! Meanwhile, the mightiest LEGIONNAIRES are doing time in a DEVIL'S ISLAND OF SPACE! "THE LEGION CHAIN GANG," in the September ADVENTURE, No. 380, on sale July 27.

Only moments away from death, BATMAN makes out a will leaving a clue to the identity of his would-be killer! Will ROBIN solve it in time? Who's the MIGHTIEST HERO ON EARTH? No, it's NOT the tall, muscular SUPERMAN, but the short, puny CAPTAIN INCREDIBLE!
